

US Army Aviation & Missile Command
Michael Hartwell
Associate Director
Program Management Support
Integrated Materiel Management Center
Redstone Arsenal, Alabama

Michael Hartwell received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Physics from Alabama A&M University in Huntsville, Alabama and completed graduate courses at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Brookings Institute, and Penn State University.

Mr. Hartwell entered Civil Service at the then US Army Missile Command as a Physical Science Aide. He served in a variety of positions from Electronics Engineer, General Engineer, and Program Manager for the Hydra 70/2.75 Rocket, and Associate Director, Weapon Systems Management Directorate. In 1991, Mr. Hartwell accepted assignment to the Integrated Materiel Management Center (IMMC) as Director, Program Management Support Directorate. His previous assignments within the IMMC include Deputy Director, and later Director, Air Defense Missile Directorate. In 2001, he became the Associate Director for Missiles. In his current position, as Associate Director, Program Management Support, Mr. Hartwell is responsible for the logistics support to US Army, Missile Defense Agency, SMDC, Joint Service, and FMS.

Mr. Hartwell has received awards and recognitions throughout his career to include the Ten Outstanding AMC Personnel of the Year, Assistant Secretary of the Army Commendation, Meritorious and Superior Civilian Service Awards, the Ernest A. Young Logistics Achievement Award, and Society of Logistics Engineers (SOLE) Logistician of the Year Award.

Mr. Hartwell is a member of the Army Acquisition Corps and he holds Level III certifications in Life-Cycle Logistics, Systems Planning, Research, and Development, and Program Management. He serves as the certifying official in Logistics for personnel in the Southern Region. Mr. Hartwell is a past Chair of the Indian Creek Nutrition Center, a past member of Hospice of Huntsville Board of Directors, and the Society of Logistics Engineers and a current member of the Institute of Electronic and Electrical Engineers and the Association of the US Army.